(Tunisia)

Implementing Partner
INTEGRATION Consulting Group

Context & Challenge

The Environmental Action Support Programme in Tunisia (PAAET), funded by the European Union in partnership with the Ministry of Environment, aims to strengthen the effectiveness, coherence, and impact of environmental interventions in Tunisia.

In a context marked by the growing number of national and international projects and programmes related to environment, climate, and ecological transition, a key challenge lies in inter-institutional coordination, capitalizing on existing initiatives, and identifying operational synergies to avoid overlaps and maximize the impact of funding.

Project Period July–November 2024

Role of the Mobilized Expertise

- ✓ Institutional coordination
- ✓ Project prioritization
- ✓ Environmental governance
- ✓ Programme alignment
- ✓ Synergy mapping
- ✓ EU-funded support

Mission Objective

To support the Ministry of Environment and PAAET in mapping, analysing, and prioritizing environmental projects and programmes, with a view to strengthening institutional coordination and identifying strategic synergies among national and international initiatives and stakeholders.

Results & Impacts

A consolidated and structured overview of Tunisia's environmental project ecosystem.

Clear identification of potential synergies and opportunities for inter-programme coordination.

Strengthened decision-support tools enhancing PAAET governance and strategic planning.

Contribution to more effective environmental aid and funding, by limiting overlaps and promoting complementarity.

Strengthened dialogue among national institutions, technical and financial partners, and implementation teams.

Expertise Mobilized & Key Contributions

As part of this mission, Ms. Jihene Touil contributed to:

- Mapping national and international projects and programmes linked to PAAET;
- Developing analysis and prioritization criteria to identify initiatives with the strongest synergy potential;
- Conducting comparative analysis and prioritizing projects based on complementarity, institutional reach, and strategic added value;
- Preparing a synthesis report highlighting synergies, complementarities, and coordination opportunities across programmes, institutions, and partners.
